

QUIZ

Circle "True" or "False" to indicate the correct answer.

1. True False Driving a 15-passenger van is just like driving a car.
2. True False The risk of a 15-passenger van rolling over increases dramatically as the number of passengers increases.
3. True False As more people fill a 15-passenger van, the center of gravity moves downward and to the front of the van.
4. True False Speed is not a factor in rollovers.
5. True False Research shows that occupants of 15-passenger vans use safety belts much less than occupants of other types of vehicles.
6. True False Inexperience is more of a factor in crashes of 15-passenger vans than age.
7. True False Two of the most common causes of rollovers is the wheels running off the roadway and overcorrecting the steering.
8. True False Once a van "fishtails" more than 15 degrees, it is almost impossible to recover.
9. True False Rural roads are always considered safer because of less traffic.
10. True False The van's tire pressure and tread wear should be checked at least once a week.
11. True False When loading the van, fill the rear seats first.
12. True False People who wear safety belts are 75% less likely to be killed in rollover crashes than those who don't.
13. True False It's critical to require the use of safety belts.
14. True False When driving, you should leave more space between you and the vehicle in front of you than you would if you were driving a car.
15. True False Few rollovers happen as a result of sudden steering maneuvers.
16. True False Striking a curb with the rear wheel when turning could cause a rollover.
17. True False If the van's wheels leave the roadway, you should brake quickly.
18. True False When you take long trips in the van, try to do all or most of the driving during the day.
19. True False The stability control systems on new vans make the van completely safe.
20. True False Practicing driving a 15-passenger van will help you get a feel for its size and handling.
